

Mobile Software Developer (iOS) - MISCHIEF

The Company

The Foundry is a world leading innovator of creative software across multiple industries. Founded in 1996, we are an award-winning, exciting, dynamic company. As well as being proud of our software, we believe the strong relationships with our customers allow us to develop flexible, open, problem-solving applications that span VFX, design, and more. We continue to move from strength to strength and are looking to grow our team of bright, capable, hard-working, and fun experts.

The Role

As an iOS Software Developer on MISCHIEF you will be working in a start-up-like environment with an international team to deliver products to market that spans creative-types of all ages and from amateur to professionals.

To be successful, you will need to enjoy tackling new problems, and engineering elegant, maintainable, solutions to problems that deliver complex technology in a simple, intuitive manner. You will be responsible for bringing the next generation of sketching technology to the iOS platform in interesting and creative ways. You will have a passion for creating elegant and simple iOS applications.

The requirements

- Excellent knowledge of the iOS platform and Objective C.
- Have published a high quality application on the App Store that we can try out.
- Strong attention to detail and a passion for delivering polished apps.
- Cross platform development including Android, Windows, and OSX desktop is an asset.
- Good track record of problem solving.
- Self-motivated, capable of working unsupervised.
- Successful experience of working in a development team.
- Good communication skills in English
- Well organised with good time management.

More About Us.

The Foundry was established in 1996. It is now the fastest-growing company in its field today, and is internationally renowned for its collaborative and open approach to software development.

Led by CEO Bill Collis and a management team that still includes the original founders, The Foundry is backed by The Carlyle Group with a substantial portion still owned by the staff.

The Foundry develops award-winning computer graphics and visual effects (VFX) software used globally by leading artists, designers and creative professionals. The portfolio lets users create inspiring and technical high-end visuals across a wide range of industries including product and concept design, marketing & advertising, media & entertainment and game development.

In September 2012, The Foundry added MODO, a 3D software package that combines modeling, painting, animation and rendering, to its portfolio. In addition to MODO, the product line includes NUKE (industry standard compositing), HIERO (shot conform and review), MARI (3D digital painting), KATANA (a look development and lighting framework), FLIX (collaborative visual story development), OCULA (a stereoscopic correction toolset) as well as a range of plug-ins.

In the design world, MODO enables the creation of a huge variety of things from products and advertising material to games assets, animation projects and beyond.

All of the company's products, including MODO, are used to create breathtaking visual effects sequences on a wide range of features, television projects and commercials. High profile examples include Gravity, Pacific Rim, World War Z, The Hobbit and the 2013 Oscar® winner, Life of Pi (Best Visual Effects). In television examples include Once Upon A Time, Falling Skies, Boardwalk Empire and Game of Thrones.

Clients include major feature film studios and post production houses such as Pixar, ILM, Double Negative, The Moving Picture Company, Walt Disney Animation, Weta Digital, Framestore and Sony Pictures Imageworks.

In 2013, The Foundry made the Sunday Times Tech Track 100 for the fourth consecutive year, ranking in 92nd position. This year, the company has also been shortlisted for categories in the UK Tech Awards and the National Business Awards. The Foundry's CEO Bill Collis was recognized as the UK Technology winner for the Ernst & Young Entrepreneur of the Year award.
